LOST RETIREMENT BENEFITS

If you are interested in finding lost retirement benefits, the Department of Labor has created a “Retirement Savings Lost and Found” database (<https://lostandfound.dol.gov>) with an online search tool for workers and beneficiaries to locate plan administrators for job-based retirement plans that may owe them benefits.

Data submission is voluntary by the plan administrators, and the site requires users to create a login.gov account.

UNCASHED CHECKS

Unclaimed.org is another source for uncashed checks from dividends and other unclaimed property and does not require a login for search by name and state.
